Activities:

Green Ganpati Celebration: The Green Club members crafted a Ganpati idol from clay, promoting eco-friendly materials. The event was held on 19th September 2023. This initiative highlights the importance of celebrating festivals in an environmentally responsible manner. By creating and showcasing these green Ganpati idols, the club successfully spread awareness of the benefits of sustainable practices. Their efforts underscore a commitment to sustainability and encourage the community to adopt eco-friendly traditions.

National Energy Conservation Day: On 14th December 2023, National Energy Conservation Day was observed, organized by the Green Club in association with the Department of Environmental Studies. As part of the awareness program, electricity was turned off from 8:25 am to 8:35 am to emphasize the importance of energy conservation. Students learned about the significance of saving electricity and were encouraged to spread this vital message within their communities. This initiative successfully highlighted the role of individual actions in promoting energy efficiency.

Green Valentine's Day: On 14th February 2024, Green Valentine's Day was celebrated from 8:30 to 9:00 am at the college garden ground floor, organized by the Green Club in association with NSS. Each class participated by donating a plant or tree, resulting in 33 plants being contributed by students. Additionally, green leafy vegetables were distributed to participants. The event aimed to spread awareness and foster a love for nature and plants, highlighting the importance of environmental conservation.
